Resolve Through Sharing®

BEREAVEMENT EDUCATION SINCE 1981

www.ResolveThroughSharing.org

Healthcare providers want the best possible outcomes for their patients and families, but what does it take to get there? For over 40 years, Resolve Through Sharing (RTS)[®] has been the go-to source for quality bereavement support materials and evidence-based training. RTS works.

See for yourself what customers have to say about using RTS patient support materials:

- Inclusive of every aspect of grief
- Beautifully and professionally presented
- Well designed, informative, and sensitive
- Easy to understand and appropriate for all

Bereavement care families receive profoundly impacts their perception of your organization. That care also affects the memories of their loved one's death. Ensure your organization is equipped to contribute to a positive grief journey for patients and families.

Pictured items above are the Door Card (pp. 7, 14, & 19), the Stillbirth Support Folder (p. 5), and the RTS Memory Box (p. 29).

Established in 1981, Resolve Through Sharing[®] (RTS) is a not-for-profit, evidence-based program that is recognized internationally for bereavement training, education, and support materials.

RTS has trained more than 60,000 professionals worldwide, and thousands of hospitals provide RTS grief support resources to their patients.

The leaf and teardrop image symbolizes the love and grief that families and loved ones feel when someone dies.

In grief, as in nature, there are cycles and movement. As seasons change, so do feelings. There is winter and spring, sadness and hope.

PERINATAL DEATH RESOURCES

RTS perinatal death resources assist physicians, nurses, social workers, chaplains, and other providers when caring for families whose baby dies. They include early pregnancy loss, stillbirth, and the loss of an infant in the first 28 days of life. The materials are a “must have” for any healthcare system that provides prenatal and delivery services.

Our Perinatal Bereavement Sample Kit will provide you with a close-up view of a variety of products. This preview approach will allow you to see how each product will enhance your ability to create meaningful relationships with and provide helpful information to those for whom you care.

It's Never Too Early (INTE). Clinics, emergency and surgical departments, and labor and delivery areas may all support those experiencing early pregnancy loss. It's Never Too Early is an initiative designed to disseminate a standard of care to these patients and families.

Pictured items are the Miscarriage Support Folder (p. 5), the PRAM Badge Card (p. 22), and the RTS TinyHeart (p. 28).

Pre-Hospital Bereavement Support Folder RTS 2504-E

Professional training for emergency responders often does not include a substantive bereavement component. This can leave responders feeling ill-equipped and helpless when supporting survivors in the field.

The Pre-Hospital Bereavement Support folder is designed for emergency personnel and the bereaved at the scene of a fatal incident. For a comprehensive protocol, pair with RTS Module 3-Pack (see page 24-25). Learn empathic communication skills, the value of meaning-making, and a framework for “being with” those experiencing traumatic grief.

$17.50 ea

The Pre-Hospital Bereavement Support Folder includes:

Tools for Responders

- A bereavement protocol checklist
- Relationship-based sample scripts designed to increase professionals' comfort and skill levels

Support Materials for the Bereaved

- With Deepest Sympathy brochure
- With Deepest Sympathy card
- Letter template from responding agency
- When Someone You Love Dies Unexpectedly booklet
- Understanding Grief Brochure
- Resource Booklet

Consider adding RTS 4139-E
“Understanding Suicide: You Are Not Alone” to customize this folder.

Self-Care Pro-Pack

RTS 3000

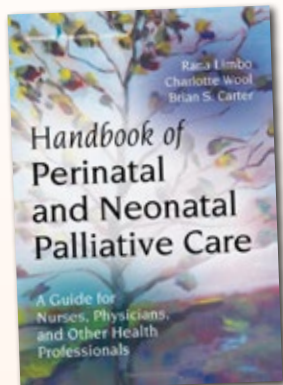

Practicing self-care becomes especially important for professionals during extreme, repeated, and/or prolonged exposure to trauma (e.g., supporting a family whose baby died, working in an ICU or for an ambulance service, providing care through the course of a pandemic).

RTS has created a pro-pack that includes "A Guide to Self-Care: Practices for Professionals Who Support Those Grieving" (informational booklet) and "As I Support Those Who Grieve: Thoughts and Reflections" (companion journal). The guide explores a deep, rich perspective on self-care through evidence-based principles and practices. Topics include daily routines, mindfulness, self-compassion, personal sharing, and ritual. The companion journal provides prompts for thoughtful reflection and a safe place where the writer can unpack struggles and find meaning.

Online Modules

As the leading provider of bereavement education and resources for healthcare professionals worldwide, RTS introduces new, state-of-the-art online modules.

RTS modules are user-friendly, interactive, evidence-based, and available 24/7. As a critical component of the RTS blended-learning trainings, they provide in-depth introductions to fundamental bereavement topics appropriate for professionals who may interact with the bereaved. You can complete the modules by taking RTS Bereavement Training, or you can complete them independently by purchasing the RTS Bereavement Module 3-Pack. The modules are suitable for individual training as well as training for entire healthcare organizations — for which group discounts are available. Continuing education offered for nursing and social work. Additional disciplines (e.g., chaplains, genetic counselors) can apply for continuing education credit through their respective accrediting bodies.

Training

Are you prepared?

Death is the most anxiety-producing situation caregivers face. They can feel uncomfortable or uncertain when caring for dying patients and their loved ones. As a result, families don't always receive the highest standard of bereavement care—the kind of care they need and deserve.

Because of uneasiness over caring for the dying and the bereaved, caregivers may aim to avoid it altogether; however, that's not possible. Bereaved individuals may seek services at your organization throughout their grief journey—they may be grieving a death that happened 10 minutes ago or 10 years ago. Being prepared for these interactions helps providers feel confident that they can make a difference.

We can help

RTS virtual bereavement training offers participants a rich educational experience that increases their knowledge, skills, and comfort levels for providing bereavement care across the lifespan. Participants learn techniques designed to incorporate evidence-based bereavement practices, promote resilience, and reduce fear and uncertainty about what to do and say. Throughout the relationship-based training, participants engage with presenters, other participants of a variety of disciplines, and a family story of individuals who have experienced the loss of a loved one. After RTS training, over 95% of participants report being more comfortable caring for bereaved families, and having the skills needed to create relationships and communicate effectively with the bereaved.

“I previously had limited knowledge regarding the interaction with and care of patients and families experiencing loss. I have gained essential skills and strategies to provide the best care possible for these patients and to support them in a way that benefits them individually.”

RTS Bereavement Training: Perinatal Death

This training is designed to educate providers who care for patients and families experiencing perinatal loss (e.g., miscarriage, stillbirth, newborn death). Unrivaled since 1981, this training is widely recognized among healthcare professionals as a must for those supporting perinatal loss.

RTS Bereavement Training: Neonatal and Pediatric Death

This training is designed to educate providers who care for dying children and families experiencing neonatal or pediatric death. It covers infant and child death as a result of prematurity, serious illness, trauma, complex medical conditions, abuse, suicide, and more.

RTS Bereavement Training: Adult Death

This training is designed to educate providers who care for dying adults and their families. RTS Bereavement Training: Adult Death focuses on anticipated death, palliative and hospice care, traumatic and unexpected death, and deaths that carry stigma.

If you are not sure which Resolve Through Sharing course is right for you, RTS staff will help.

RTS Bereavement Coordinator Certification

This certification course is designed for RTS professionals* who recognize the value of the RTS-approach to standardized bereavement care and plan to implement it in their own organizations. Topics include components of a sustainable bereavement care model, change models and theory, education and training, organizational culture, and caring for and developing staff. Along with the knowledge and tools gained by completing the training, RTS Certified Bereavement Coordinators receive additional supports to benefit their professional growth and enhance care at their organization, including access to professional groups, tailored consultations with RTS staff, access to RTS program resources, RTS product discounts and special promotions, and a professional credential—RTSCBC.

*Individuals who have completed one or more RTS bereavement training(s)

“Resolve Through Sharing was a fantastic educational opportunity. The content and speaker were engaging, informative, and confident. I would highly recommend Resolve Through Sharing for any hospital system that aims to improve their end-of-life/bereavement care.”

Regulatory standards

Did you know the Joint Commission requires bereavement education for staff as part of a standard of end-of-life care? Each RTS Bereavement Training provides participants with the tools to meet The Joint Commission standards for consistent delivery of quality patient care at the end of life. Also, implementing RTS practices and establishing a standardized bereavement program will help you achieve Triple Aim goals by ensuring that care in your organization—in any unit and at every point of entry—will meet the needs of every grieving patient and family.

Partners in success

THE Preshand™ SYSTEM

The Preshand (preh-schänd) System was developed to help complete the continuum of bereavement care in a hospital setting by providing a dignified, sensitive, and practical way to manage the presenting and handling of an infant death in a manner that is respectful for the caregiver, the infant, and the family.

The Presentation portion of the system was created to offer parents a comforting memory of their baby cradled in a Presentation Basket, giving a warmer and less clinical last image of their infant in the hospital. The Presentation Basket also offers a gentle setting for taking photos.

The Handling part of the system was created with the staff in mind. The Insert provides a final resting place for baby, and when used with the Handling Carrier, it provides staff with a solution to confidently transport the baby through public areas to the morgue or pathology in a manner that is respectful to both the caregiver, and the baby.

Presentation...

Nestle base of Insert and baby on Nesting Filler. Arrange the fabric Coverlet to create a soft setting.

Present baby in Preshand Presentation Basket to the family.

Contact Memories Unlimited to view a brief demonstration video of the Preshand System.

Handling...

In staff area, remove Insert with baby from Basket.

Prepare baby, fold Coverlet over baby. Place keepsakes inside the Memory Box™.

Secure Insert lid with the ribbon ties and fill out ID card located on the end of the insert base.

Place Insert containing the baby inside Handling Carrier. Secure bag.

Transport the baby with confidence throughout facility.

PRESHAND STARTER SYSTEM

All the Preshand System tools offered at a special value. The Presentation Baskets with Nesting Fillers and the Handling Carriers are reusable. The Preshand Inserts are for one-time use and can be reordered in sizes as needed. Includes a DVD demonstration of the Preshand System and the following items:

- 1 Small and 1 Large Presentation Basket; each with Nesting Filler
